Semester
Fall
Short Description
The course will focus on practical and therapeutic uses of psychological understandings in the clinical setting. The course will briefly explore various forms of psychotherapy, from psychodynamic and humanistic to cognitive behavioral, and examine their effectiveness. In addition, it will touch on major therapeutic concepts and issues, such as the relationship between therapist and patient or working with dreams and sexual issues, as well as discuss ethical dilemmas that arise in the clinical setting. The course material will be illustrated by clinical examples.
Final grade components
Minor assignments: 10 response papers (20%) Final requirement: Final paper (80%)
Attendance
Attendance is mandatory. Students are permitted a maximum of three unauthorized absences without penalty. Any additional absences will affect the final grade and may result in failure of the course.*
Academic Conduct
Plagiarism is taken extremely seriously. Any instance of academic misconduct which includes: submitting someone else's work as your own; failure to accurately cite sources; taking words from another source without using quotation marks; submission of work for which you have previously received credit; working in a group for individual assignments; using unauthorized materials in an exam and sharing your work with other students, will result in failure of the assignment and will likely lead to further disciplinary measures.*
Final assignment
Exam dates and submission deadlines are published on the Liberal Arts website. Students requiring an extension for a final paper must submit an Academic Committee Request Form to the Liberal Arts office in advance of the deadline. Late papers will be subject to a point deduction.*
